ABILITIES and EXPERIENCE

Education:

A Doctor of Education with an emphasis in Leadership and Organization, I am a professional educator with more than 20 years' experience in public education, serving 16 years as the superintendent for three school districts. I have extensive experience in leadership, organization, program assessment and accountability, family and community participation, the supervision of large and complex organizations, and business and financial management.

I earned a noted reputation as an influential and creative leader, and a coalition and consensus builder with excellent communication and interpersonal skills. I possess the ability to create and manage multiple simultaneous projects, programs, and multi-million dollar budgets assuring success and fiscal responsibility with integrity. I enjoy the role of inspiring and evaluating staff, leading teams, successfully navigating community politics to achieve positive outcomes, understanding and correctly employing public law and organizational policies and procedures, and planning small, medium and large projects that complete tasks on time and within budget.

Business:

I am also a business consultant with 12 years' experience in the for-profit and nonprofit business sector. I established a nonprofit 501(c)3 entity to build a social and business network supporting all community members through a character education program. In addition, working with a staff of over 30 writers, I created and managed a successful publishing company that published 20 books for K – 12 students in math, science and language.

As a businessperson, I have strong leadership and organizational skills, and am adept in building teams and guiding staff to achieve goals and timelines. I am confident with all aspects of creating, managing, and leading a business enterprise.
